CHAIN mini Workshop

Ethics and Epistemology of Emerging Technologies

Tuesday, November 17, 2026
13:00–17:30 · CHAIN Seminar Room, Hokkaido University

GUEST SPEAKER
Clint Hurshman National University of Singapore

Program

13:00–13:45	Jack Jiang & Sonia Zhang	Knowing Prey: AI and Theory of Mind through an Anthropological Lens
13:50–14:35	Hiroki Kanno	Rethinking the Moralization of Technology: Insights from Predictive Processing
14:45–15:30	Hayate Shimizu	Writing Myself, Writing with AI: On Meaning and Value
15:35–16:20	Kiichi Inarimori	Does Gene Editing Make ‘That’ Child Better Off?
16:30–17:30	Clint Hurshman Guest lecture	Epistemic Domination and Large Language Models

ADMISSION & LANGUAGE
Free admission · No registration required
参加無料・事前登録不要｜使用言語：英語

ACCESS
北海道大学中央キャンパス
総合研究棟 2 号館 3 階
入口のインターホンで「 315 」を押してください
Press 315 on the intercom at the entrance.

ORGANIZER
Hayate Shimizu (shimizu.philo [at] gmail.com)

HOSTED BY
Center for Human Nature, Artificial Intelligence, and Neuroscience (CHAIN), Hokkaido University
人間知・脳・ AI 研究教育センター（ CHAIN ）